WILSON SPEAKS THROUGH RADIO ARMISTICE DAY

Is First Public Speech Made Since Stricken in West

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Woodrow Wilson will address the American people on the night of November 10 on the "Significance of Armistice Day."

He will speak from his S street home here and his message will be carried to every section of the country by radio. It will be the first time his voice has been heard outside of Washington since he was stricken in the west in September, 1919, while carrying to the country his fight for the league of nations.

The former president has promised to speak for ten minutes and his friends believe he will devote much of his address to the subject closest to his heart—American participation in the settlement of the peace of the world. They would not be surprised if he should touch upon the present international situation.

Mr. Wilson's message probably will be heard by millions not only by owners of home radio sets, but also by crowds at public gatherings for which his friends in many cities are expected to arrange.

Under present plans the former president will begin to speak at 8 o'clock talking into a microphone. His message will be carried over a telephone wire to a speech apparatus mounted on a truck stationed in the yard of the S street home. Amplified by this apparatus it will be carried on telephone wires to the WCAP station in New York where it will be amplified before being broadcast on a different wave length from that used by WCAP.

This message by Wilson will be quite apart from any visit to his home on Armistice Day. Arrangements for this demonstration are now being made by a committee headed by Huston Thompson of the federal trade commission.

WOMEN'S COUNCIL CLOSED MEETING WITH BIG BANQUET

Have Sharp Debate on Resolution—Officers are Elected

DECATUR, Ill., Nov. 2. (A.P.)—Insidious propaganda directed toward the destruction of civilization has been working its way into the business of the world for approximately 150 years, Mrs. Haviland Haines Lund of Washington, D. C., declared before the convention of the National Council of Women here today in an effort to obtain passage of her resolution authorizing the council to appoint a committee for the purpose of studying and investigating propaganda.

The resolution which came up for the first time today was unfavorably reported this afternoon in a majority report of the committee on resolutions but reached the floor in a minority report where it occasioned a sharp debate before it was finally referred for action to the organizations represented in the council.

Causes Debate
Professor Marion P. Whitney of Vassar, in presenting the majority report contended that the matter was not germane to the council, not having been presented by a constituent organization.

Mrs. R. E. Digney of New York, however, took the matter to the floor of the convention in a minority report which declared that the resolution could do no harm and might do a great deal of good.

At this point Mrs. Lund told the women that the resolution was not designed to affect the legitimate method of educational propaganda, but she charged that propagandists were working their way into the most highly respected organizations of the country and under the guise of movements for really worthy projects were weakening the resistance of the country to their aims and preparing for a bloodless revolution.

Dr. Valeria H. Parker, director of the department of social morality of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union moved adoption of the majority report and another delegate asked where the proposed committee could find material to work on to which Miss Isabel Worrall Ball, veteran newspaperwoman of Washington replied that enough material could be furnished to keep the committee busy.

After some further debate a five voice vote showed the delegates to be very evenly divided and Dr. Parker called for a standing vote which showed that the motion was lost. Following this a resolution to refer the matter to the constituent organizations was passed.

The convention will end with a banquet at the Decatur club tonight.

Officers Elected

An invitation from Peoria for the 1925 meeting of the council was read and referred to the board of directors of the council. The following officers nominated by the nominating committee were declared elected as there was no opposition.

Mrs. Philip North Moore of St. Louis was nominated to succeed herself as president of the National Council of Women in the report of the nominating committee she was unopposed.

The four vice presidents of the council, Mrs. Nathaniel Harris of Bradford, Pa., Mrs. Thomas G. Winter of Minneapolis, Mrs. Anna A. Gordon of Evanston and Mrs. A. Ross Hill of Port Huron, Mich., were re-nominated for the office of treasurer, Mrs. Ruth May Fox of Salt Lake City, for the office of auditor and Miss Lucy E. Anthony of Moynan, Pa. for the office of historian. All of the candidates named by the committee are without opposition.

Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett of Alexandria, Va., was elected president of the National Post-War Council at a meeting this afternoon. The council consisting of several post-war organizations of women was formed here last night.

Favorite lodge No. 376, Knights of Pythias, will hold an open house meeting at Castle Hall next Thursday evening, Nov. 8. The features of the evening will be stories by William N. The next district convention will be held here Nov. 21 according to an announcement made by Hugh Green, president of the Tenth Pythian District of Illinois. All lodges of the district are expected to be represented.

WALTON CLAIMS THREAT ON LIFE MADE IN NOTE

Senate Page Delivers Message to Him in Court Room

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Nov. 2. (A.P.)—Governor J. C. Walton on trial before a senate court of impeachment, declared late today that his life had been threatened in a note handed him this morning by a senate page as he sat at his council table.

The note was handed to a page at the door of the senate chamber by a stranger the governor said he had learned from the page. The stranger then left. Inquirers at the time were given to understand that the note was "insulting," but the governor later declared it was a "threat against my life."

The governor remained in his office during the afternoon session of the court but declared that he had stayed there to attend to some personal business.

Governor Walton declined to show the alleged note to a press representative.

Senate officers declined to comment on the incident. Several members of the body who refused to speak officially characterized the note as a "frame up."

ROTARIANS DINNER GUESTS OF COL. SMITH

Held Friday Meeting at State School for Deaf—C. J. Doyle of Springfield Made Fine Address

Members of the Jacksonville Rotary club again enjoyed the hospitality of Col. O. C. Smith at the School for the Deaf Friday noon. What the Rotarians justly termed a "real dinner" was served in the study room adjacent to the library, where the handsomely decorated tables had been spread.

Roses served as place cards and each Rotarian also found at his plate a blue and white card to wear at the Illinois college-Monmouth football game. In a special song the Rotarians expressed their appreciation of Col. Smith's generous invitation.

The program for the day had been arranged by the educational committee and different paragraphs from the Rotary code of ethics were presented by various members of the club as they were called upon by H. M. Capps, a member of the educational committee.

C. E. Segner, Lloyd Hamilton, Charles T. Mackness, Dr. Carl E. Black and Henry Frisch were among those who thus gave emphasis to the code. The speaker of the day was C. J. Doyle, president of the Springfield Rotary club. Mr. Doyle has wide fame as an after dinner speaker and he fully sustained his reputation yesterday. His address was based particularly upon the fourth paragraph of the Rotary code, and in a very suggestive way he brought out the thought that it is the duty of Rotarians in their business relationships with other people not only to be legitimate competitors but to be ethical as well.

The whole address stressed the principles for which Rotary stands, the high ideals of service that are fundamental to the organization.

Before Mr. Doyle's address Senator Earl B. Searcy, who is a Rotarian, spoke briefly. Dr. A. H. Doller, president of the Jacksonville club, was present for the first time in a number of weeks, but Vice President Woolston presided. Dr. Doller made an announcement concerning the inter-city Rotary meeting which will be held in Urbana next Saturday. The local club is expecting to send several representatives.

Following the suggestion made recently, Jacksonville Rotarians will at some early date attend a Rotary meeting in Springfield. A committee of which Frank J. Heini is chairman was named to make the necessary arrangements. A. J. Triebel of Springfield, was one of the guests of the club yesterday. L. G. Magill was also a guest.

FOUND NOT GUILTY ON BRIBERY CHARGE

San Francisco, Calif., Nov. 3.—Frederick N. Mellon Will Not Reply To Pinchot

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Secretary Mellon announced tonight he would continue no further the controversy initiated by Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania on the subject of prohibition enforcement.

In a formal statement the secretary put an end to the exchange of communications so far as the treasury is concerned, saying with finality that all persons interested in law enforcement will see the futility of any controversy between himself and the Pennsylvania governor who is regarded here as among the aspirants for the presidency.

The statement was designed to serve as a reply to Mr. Pinchot's most recent letters in which federal enforcement again was criticized and according to Mr. Mellon, in which Governor Pinchot charged that the treasury department had made no effort to enforce the national prohibition act in Pennsylvania, and inferentially no serious effort generally.

Without making further reference to Mr. Pinchot or any of his various interrogatories, the treasury head called attention to the appropriation of $8,500,000 with which he was expected to make the law effective in "forty-eight states, the District of Columbia, Porto Rico and the territories of Hawaii and Alaska."

Instead of attempting a detailed answer to the various inquiries of the governor Mr. Mellon said he purposed to confine himself to "a statement of the efforts to enforce the law made in Pennsylvania and throughout the country."

At the same time, Mr. Mellon went into the problems with which the federal enforcement officials have had to deal and declared that the solution in part was more money for expansion of the government's enforcement unit. In addition to money, however, Mr. Mellon said that "patience, perseverance and united effort are necessary to the undertaking."

COURT RULES THAT WALTON MUST ENTER PLEA ON ALL COUNTS

Articles Two and Sixteen Withdrawn by Prosecution

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Nov. 2. (A.P.)—Governor J. C. Walton must enter a plea to all charges contained in the indictment filed against him in the state senate according to a ruling tonight of the senate court of impeachment. The decision followed a day of argument on a demurrer by counsel for the executive to 14 of the 22 articles in the impeachment bill.

The senate voted to overrule the demurrer which was amended by the defense just before the vote was taken so as to embrace only 12 articles. The objection to article 16, charging suppression of the press, and article 2, charging conversion of public funds, were withdrawn.

The vote on all but two articles constituted a heavy majority against curtailment of the impeachment bill.

The court set 1:30 p. m., Wednesday for the governor's pleading and ordered the trial to start at 1:30 p. m., Thursday. It then adjourned until Wednesday.

REGRETTED MARRIAGE ON HER WEDDING DAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes testified today at the retrial of the divorce suit brought by W. E. D. Stokes, that her married life with the wealthy hotel owner had been unhappy from the first. She declared under cross-examination that she could not recall one happy day with Mr. Stokes since her marriage.

"On the day you married Mr. Stokes you regretted it," asked Mr. Steiner.

"I did," she answered.

Mrs. Stokes continuously denied she had ever been in the 35th street apartment of Edgar Wallace named by Mr. Stokes as a correspondent. Mr. Steiner caused something of a sensation when he produced several photographs of Mrs. Stokes and men in pajamas. But Mrs. Stokes did not lose the coolness that marked all of her testimony. She calmly said she did not remember the circumstances when her husband's attorney asked her to tell about one of the pictures.

JURY FREES JUDGE IN ACCIDENT CASE

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 2.—Edward J. Fleming, judge of the South Side court at Kansas City, was acquitted late today by the jury trying him on a charge of leaving the scene of a motor car accident here the night of June 30, in which Miss Elizabeth Dugan was killed. The jury deliberated three hours.

Miss Dunigan was one of four occupants of Judge Fleming's car when it overturned in a ditch near the southern edge of the city. She was pinned beneath the car and died of suffocation.

On the stand today Judge Fleming testified that he was dazed after the accident. His physician corroborated this declaring that several hours after the accident the judge appeared to be suffering from shock brought about by an injury to his head.

SAYS TREATY WOULD HAVE SMALL EFFECT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—President Coolidge is of the opinion that a provision in the proposed liquor treaty with Great Britain permitting British ships to bring sealed liquor stores within the three mile limit would have the effect merely so far as domestic law is concerned, of abolishing the penalties now assessed by the Volstead act against foreign vessels bringing liquor into American territorial waters.

So far as the question of such a provision conflicting with the constitution as interpreted by the supreme court in the ship liquor cases is concerned, Mr. Coolidge believes it would be in no more conflict than the exemption now given foreign ships in passing thru the Panama canal.

THAT ROAD DISTRICT ELECTION

Thousands of votes were cast in the road district election held a year ago. The polling place chosen by John McDonald, now Democratic candidate for commissioner, was at a store on East Lafayette avenue, far from the center of the district. Hundreds of men and women evidently resented this effort to make it inconvenient for them to vote in the election.

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—The bankers of Frankfurt are refusing to handle checks for current rates of exchange. Lesser checks involve too much bookkeeping.

FASTEST SPEED ON RECORD MADE BY NAVY FLIER

Sends Plane Thru Air at Rate of 265 Miles An Hour

MITCHELL, FIELD, N. Y., Nov. 2.—The fastest speed ever attained by man was made today by Lieutenant H. J. Brown, navy aviator, who flew over a three kilometer straightaway course four times at an average speed of 259.42 miles an hour. On one leg of the course he travelled at the phenomenal rate of 265.21 miles an hour.

Brown's record was attained in competition with Lieutenant A. J. Williams, former pitcher on the New York Giants baseball club and winner of the Pulitzer prize both men flying navy Curtiss planes. Brown was second in the Pulitzer contest.

Brown went up first and set a pace of 257.42 miles an hour and Williams was soon in the air intent on beating that record. When his plane reached the ground he found he had flown 253.61 miles an hour. As he was being congratulated by army officers and others who watched the speed trials, Brown ran to his plane.

"Whirl the propeller, boys," he shouted to his mechanics, "I'm going after it."

The spectators held their breath as his plane shot thru the air and the thrill of the day came on the second leg when, flying with the light wind that wafted over the army post field, he sent his machine at the breath-taking clip of nearly five miles a minute.

"It was almost unbelievable," said Major William N. Hensley, commanding officer at Mitchell Field who was in direct charge of the contest.

"Pretty good, Brown," said Williams as he congratulated his competitor, "but I'm going to beat it tomorrow."

Brown only smiled.

Today's contest was viewed by officials of the National Aeronautic association, the American representatives of the International Aero Aeronautic Federation. It was declared the record would have official recognition.

RIOTERS ARRESTED AT D. LLOYD GEORGE MEETING BY POLICE

Irish Sympathizers Attempt Mass Meeting on Street

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Eight persons were arrested at the Metropolitan Opera House where Lloyd George, war premier of Great Britain was speaking to night when Irish Republican sympathizers attempted to hold a mass meeting on the street. Patrolmen's caps were knocked from their heads by placards the sympathizers were carrying.

Police fought a hand to hand battle with a large group that gathered on 4th street near Broadway. Many arrested signs bearing the picture of Eamon DeValera while others were inscribed with phrases uncomplimentary to the British visitor.

The area about the Metropolitan Opera House was guarded by 250 patrolmen and 150 detectives. Before Mr. Lloyd George arrived the crowds that pressed about to catch a glimpse of him were so great that a traffic jam resulted. Theatergoers became angered when they were held up for several minutes by the throng.

Mounted police finally charged the crowd that surged about the blue coats. Hundreds of persons were driven back to Sixth avenue while here and there a patrolman grabbed one of the group and placed him under arrest. Several of those so caught were women.

The pilots scoured the country around Ottawa in the belief that the bandits might be hiding in a wooded section awaiting nightfall to make their escape.

HARVEY WILL LEAVE ENGLAND TODAY FOR UNITED STATES SOIL

Party is Given Warm Farewell at Waterloo Station

LONDON, Nov. 2.—George Harvey, the American ambassador and Mrs. Harvey, with their little grand daughter, Dorothy Thompson, were given an exceptionally warm farewell party at the Waterloo station this afternoon previous to their departure for Southampton whence they will sail on the Aquitania for home tomorrow. Ambassador Harvey's last day in London have been featured by many expressions of Anglo-American friendship and his last act of courtesy to his English friends gave occasion for another expression of this feeling.

Instead of leaving the British capital in the cold and clammy early morning tomorrow at the time the boat trains regularly leave for the southern port Ambassador Harvey departed this afternoon thereby enabling the official world and his many friends to bid him farewell without the inconvenience of groping their way to the station thru the fog which at this time of the year envelopes most of the Thames Valley, particularly in the early hours. Scores of officials and friends availed themselves of the opportunity and the platform party which lasted a half hour before the train started at 4:30 o'clock was like an open air reception for British and American officials, the diplomatic corps and the American colony.

Mr. Harvey told his friends that he anticipated no senatorial objection to the proposed treaty to curb rum running by British ships in American waters as Secretary Hughes had assured him that the terms to which Foreign Secretary Curzon had agreed would be acceptable to the senate in his opinion.

FOUR BANDITS LOCK FIFTEEN IN VAULT AND THEN ROB BANK

Get Good Haul But Overlook Several Thousand in Gold

OTTAWA, Kans., Nov. 2.—Four unmasked bandits, who rode into Ottawa this morning, entered the First National Bank, locked fifteen persons in the vault and then coolly looted the institution, were at liberty tonight with the proceeds of their daring—$25,000 in money and some $100,000 in bonds and securities.

Several thousand dollars in gold was overlooked by the robbers. Officers here and in surrounding counties made a fruitless search during the day to pick up the trail of the robbers. The robbers drove out of town in their motor car in a southwesterly direction. Three airplanes were pressed into service this afternoon at Iola, Kansas, but the air scouting expedition proved unsuccessful.

Miss Julia Lathrop, the state president of the league, was a speaker at the luncheon Friday. Dr. Dewey spoke of the general interest manifested by the women present, who had gathered from all parts of the state, particularly from the northern and central part, in all discussions, and the regret that there was not more time to enter more fully into many of the vital questions. Mrs. J. Marshall Miller was also present at the meetings.

SOCIALISTS IN CABINET DECIDE ON WITHDRAWAL

Decision Made After Waiting Two Days for Reply

BERLIN, Nov. 2.—(A.P.)—Chancellor Stresemann's moribund four-party coalition cabinet, which the doughty chancellor resurrected from the last parliamentary crisis, lost one of its chief props tonight when the United Socialists at a minister caucus voted to recall their three ministers from the cabinet.

The defection of the Socialists from the government with which they never were in complete accord from the moment they were coaxed back a month ago followed two days of waiting for the chancellor's reply to their ultimatum embodying a series of demands which obviously had been forced upon the party's moderated minority by the clamorous left wing.

Big Majority
The vote of the Socialists to withdraw from the coalition was carried by a big majority. They are represented in the cabinet by Wilhelm Sollmann, minister of the interior; Gustav Radbruch, minister of justice and Robert Schmidt, minister of reconstruction. Dr. Stresemann has been indisposed for the last two days but is suspected of having given the program of the radicals mature thought in the quiet of his private chambers, and when the party's emissaries called this afternoon he briefly informed them that their ultimatum was ill-timed, ill-considered and wholly unfeasible in the present situation and that it behooved their party as an integral component part of the coalition to hold back with such procedure while the nation was passing thru a grave internal crisis which was further augmented by complicated foreign relations.

The chancellor's reply brought a swift rejoinder from the Socialists tonight when in party caucus and after brief debate they voted in favor of recalling their ministers and withdrawing from the cabinet.

The dissolution of the reichstag, followed by the installation of a dictatorial government, or the continuance in office of Chancellor Stresemann at the head of a "rump" cabinet, comprising the bourgeois parties are eventualities suggested by the retirement of the Socialists from the present coalition.

FRANCE HAS NO PART IN RHINELAND MIXUP

PARIS, Nov. 2. (A.P.)—The French government is not interested in any Rhineland separation movement, and is not involved in the present one and is not encouraging it. This is Premier Poincare's reply to the British note in which the question was raised whether it would not be a breach of the treaty of Versailles if the Rhineland was separated from the reich.

At the same time M. Poincare points out that in his opinion Article 27 of the treaty of Versailles which Marquis Curzon, British foreign secretary interpreted as guaranteeing the German frontiers, simply fixed them and that, as a matter of jurisprudence, that clause could not be construed as a guarantee of territorial integrity.

A THOUGHT

We now therefore have sorrow; but I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no man taketh from you.—John 16:22.

Why all delights are vain; but that most vain which with pain purchased doth inherit pain.—Shakespeare.

The recent appalling grade crossing accident in Bloomington emphasizes the need for better protection at crossings. In this instance when three lives were lost there was no intimation of fast driving or of carelessness on the part of the man at the steering wheel.

The stadium at the University of Illinois was designed with the thought of accommodating increasing throngs as the years go by. The project is not yet completed but already it is certain that the capacity will not be equal to the demand. Judged by local interest there will be as many people seeking to gain admittance today as there are within the stadium portals.

Notwithstanding the fact that some agricultural conditions show depression in general agriculture is in the best condition since 1919, so the department announces as follows: Purchasing power of farm products, though still at a disparity as compared with the industrial products, is now at the highest point in three years. Moreover, farm prices for agricultural products are higher at a season when farmers actually have something to sell.

The trouble is that the average person judges agriculture by some local condition rather than by considering the country as a whole.

ENDOWED BRAINS.

An important fact about Dr. Banting's discovery of the insulin treatment for diabetes is the governmental attitude in Canada. The Dominion government has voted Dr. Banting a life annuity of $7,500; the Ontario government has provided a chair for medical research, paying $10,000 a year, and has appointed Dr. Banting its first occupant. In each case the aim is to insure the doctor's services to the state. But other important things are accomplished at the same time.

These awards, though comparatively small, insure the young investigator a career financially secure so that he is free to devote his energies to further research and investigation. They set the excellent example of public acknowledgment and reward for attainable service.

It is more than likely that Dr. Banting will make other contributions to medical progress. Canada has guaranteed him the opportunity, at least.

The United States is not yet converted to this method of endowing brains, nor are democracies in general, but we should all come to it in time. There are few government expenditures more useful to the whole people and more democratic than paying for the cultivation of talent.

OBEYING SIGNS.

A native driving a summer visitor through the woods of northern Michigan came across a big sign in the middle of the road reading: "Detour—Road Impassable."

"Huh!" snorted the native. "I don't see why this road should be impassable. I drove along here a month ago, and it was all right. I believe that sign's wrong." So he drove on three or four miles, until he came to a place where a new bridge was being built, then suddenly reversed his course and took the detour.

A father taking his little son to the Central Park zoo in New York the other day, paused in front of the polar bear's cage. There were stout steel bars between the bear and the public, reinforced by a wire screen. There was also a heavy guard rail three feet from the cage. Above were signs reading: "Keep Outside the Guard Rail" and "Don't Feed the Animals." The father could read, nevertheless he deliberately lifted the lad over the guard rail and set him down inside, with a bag of peanuts. The child promptly thrust a little hand, filled with nuts, through the wire mesh of the cage. There was quick growl and the swing of an angry paw, and the child sprang back with his hand torn to shreds.

Here are two incidents showing the American contempt for plain instructions. Similar things are happening right along, everywhere. Independence and self-confidence are fine traits, but aren't they being overdone nowadays? A little more respect for warnings, rules and laws and a little more readiness to believe that possibly the person in authority knows what he is doing would save a heap of trouble.

This may be really the main thing wrong with the world today. It won't pay attention to signs.

RIDGELY ENCAMPMENT HELD GOOD MEETING

Lodge Conferred Golden Rule Degree on Two Candidates Last Night—Informal Program and Eats Followed

A most enjoyable meeting of Ridgely Encampment No. 9, I. O. O. F. was held in the lodge rooms on West State street last evening with a large attendance of members and visitors.

The Golden Rule Degree was conferred on Horace C. Massey and C. L. Rudisill and after the degree work a number of inspiring talks were delivered by visiting members.

Grand High Priest Carl H. Weber of the Grand Encampment of Illinois, spoke on the recent Grand Lodge meeting in Springfield and called attention to the forward steps being taken by the order.

An interesting feature of the evening was the reading of a humorous letter written to the Encampment by F. M. Brewer, a member of the lodge now living in Snackover, Ark. Mr. Brewer will be remembered as the proprietor of the Dunlap hotel in this city before moving west.

Quite a number of applications for membership were presented. Chief Patriarch Baby York and Degree Staff Captain W. J. Roberts are preparing to hold a special meeting during the first week in December at which time the three degrees of the order will be conferred on a large class of candidates from Jacksonville and surrounding towns. Invitations will be extended to the Grand officers to be present at this meeting.

After the degree work the refreshments committee consisting of Charles Goodey, John A. Paschall and Henry Pullen served appropriate refreshments.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

A BOOST

BY BERTON BRALEY

IT'S quite the proper thing of late To knock, belabor and berate Our country for its backward state In ways artistic. To say that dollars are our goal And all we think of is "a roll," And that our people have a soul Commercialistic.

I'M fed up on that sort of stuff, We like the shibboleth well enough; And so, in spite of all their bluff, Do other nations. But for the poet's singing line, For music, painting and design We, too, possess some very fine Appreciations.

COMMERCIAL? That we can't deny. And that, undoubtedly, is why These uncommercial peoples vie To tap our coffers; And artists, singers, actors come From everywhere in Christendom Because we'll pay the largest sum For what they offer!

I'M sick of supercilious cliques. Who with the masses never mix, And yet who will presume to fix Our state artistic. Get down beneath the surface, find The soul of us, the heart and mind, You've got a bunch, fair, generous, kind, Idealistic!

So, though to knock is quite the style, I choose to wave the flag awhile!

RECITAL AT THE CONSERVATORY

Last evening in the Recital Hall of the Conservatory a Piano evening was given. Miss Elizabeth Peck, who has entered on her first year as a member of the Conservatory Faculty, teaching piano, organ and Public school methods, made her introductory appearance in recital, presenting a program of variety and musical interest before a large audience that filled the hall. Jacksonville always takes an interest in new representatives of the Musical Art, and is ready to welcome any who have made it a conscientious study, as has Miss Peck, and is particularly glad to meet one who has as much of a message to bring as was received by them in Recital Hall last evening.

The program opened with several classic numbers, two of them melodies of the great operatic Master, Gluck arranged by Saint-Saens and played by Miss Peck with excellent rhythm, clean touch and genuine sincerity and repose. These selections prepared the listeners skilfully for the more modern ones to follow. The Etude of Chopin was given with astonishing virility and sonority, as well as clean cut finger work. Its character was well brought out. The Nocturne was as mournful and despairing as Chopin meant it to be, and the player showed her command of the true singing tone and legato.

The remaining numbers revealed another of Miss Peck's ability, in their heroic handling. With, apparently a slight physique, the artist gave weight, authority and impressiveness to the Liszt, McDowell and Dohnanyi pieces, in which the technical difficulties are considerable. In the short "Danse de la Filles du Diable"—inadvertently omitted from the printed program—an interesting ultra-modern touch was loaned to the evening. The audience was most enthusiastic and loath to let the pianist go at the end of the short program. It is evident that in Miss Peck we have a decided addition to our musical coterie. She will always be heard with pleasure.

It was announced by Director Krich that the Advanced Students' recital, announced for November 9th will be on Tuesday, November 12th on account of the Historic Pageant at the High School.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the work that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c

You observe here how "the system" is steadily making life a cut-and-dried proposition. Things that used to be "up to the individual" now are decided for him. Probably it's all for the best. But life in America is becoming as mechanical as an alarm clock. And that isn't for the best, because it destroys initiative by lessening the individual's sense of responsibility.

You recall the talk about a sugar famine. Well, the sugar industry has been waiting for the report from the firm of Willett and Grey. It's available now, and to this effect: The world's sugar crop for the 1923-1924 season will be bigger than ever before. Larger even than the gigantic 1914-1915 crop.

This is one more reminder that we live in an area of many predicted catastrophes, few of which materialize.

Punch, funniest comic magazine in the world, prints picture of a fat man being carried by a mob of boys. Underneath it says: "No, this is not a triumphal march. It is only poor Mr. Brown on a walking holiday overcome by the heat and discovered by Boy Scouts, who are taking him to the nearest village for medical assistance."

We have an idea, that's what the rising generation is going to do to us. Our generation, you know, has botched things frightfully.

Sister Mary's Kitchen
BY SISTER MARY
A HEAD OF CABBAGE

To the woman who is cooking for two or three a simple head of cabbage often causes much perplexity.

A quarter of a head is often more than enough for one meal and after the cabbage is cut it must be used soon or wasted. Perhaps, cooked cabbage is taboo in the family and raw cabbage for four or five meals in succession seems too much of a good thing.

If the odor of the cabbage is the main objection, try cooking it uncovered. Parboil and carefully drain before dressing for the table. Cabbage really has a more delicate flavor than cauliflower or Brussels sprouts if it's carefully cooked and served.

In cold weather a cut head of cabbage can be kept for several days if wrapped in oiled paper and freshened in cold water before using.

With cabbage at 5 cents or more per pound none should be thrown away.

The story of this head of cabbage may help you with your next week's menu planning.

With the fish dinner of Friday serve a cabbage salad.

For Saturday luncheon use the left over fish with cabbage in a salad. The menu might be something like this:

Fish and Cabbage Salad
Hot Cheese Sandwiches
Cookies
Tea

Serve cabbage au gratin with the Sunday roast.

Monday plan to have a vegetable soup and use cabbage, carrots, tomatoes and onions for the vegetables. The tomatoes and carrots seem to absorb the disagreeable pungency of the cabbage and the soup is really delicious.

Cabbage Salad

One cup finely shredded cabbage
1 cup diced celery, 1 apple, 2 table spoon nuts, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 table spoon sugar, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 4 tablespoons oil, paprika.

Add salt and sugar to cabbage and crush slightly with a wooden potato masher. Add celery and apple diced and mix well. Add vinegar, stirring well with a silver fork. Add oil and continue stirring. Sprinkle with paprika and arrange on salad plates. Sprinkle with nuts and serve.

If you happen to have a slice of canned pineapple add this, cut in small pieces. The tartness of the pineapple is quite an addition to the salad.

Fish and Cabbage Salad

One cup flaked fish, 1 cup cabbage finely shredded, 1 green pepper, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 table spoons lemon juice, mayonnaise, 1 teaspoon minced parsley.

Remove seeds and white ribs from pepper and cut in shreds. Mix fish and cabbage and pour over lemon juice. Let stand half an hour. Add pepper, salt and parsley. Make moist with mayonnaise and serve on lettuce. Sprinkle with paprika before serving.

Cabbage au Gratin

Two cups finely shredded cabbage, 2 table spoons butter, 1 table spoon flour, 1/2 cups milk, 1 table spoon grated cheese, 1 cup coarse bread crumbs, salt and pepper.

Put cabbage into slightly salted boiling water and boil, uncovered, for 15 minutes. Drain and rinse in cold water. Drain. Put in a well buttered baking dish and pour over the sauce made by melting butter, stirring in flour, slowly adding milk and cooking until thick and smooth. Add cheese and stir until melted. Cover with crumbs, dot with bits of butter and bake in a moderate oven until crumbs are brown.

Cabbage cooked this way will not fill the house with a disagreeable cabbage odor.

This one head of cabbage is used in four different ways, providing nourishing food at a low cost and without monotony.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

The Feeding of Soft Corn—The most satisfactory method of disposition of soft corn is to feed it to livestock. The best way to feed it to livestock is in the form of corn silage. Silage from soft corn does not greatly differ from ordinary corn silage and can be kept indefinitely. If there is so much soft corn that the available silos will not hold it, the ears may be jerked, put thru the ensilage cutter and ensiled without the stalks. Experiments at the university show that immature corn when ensiled in this manner has a high feeding value, and of course will keep indefinitely. The husks are in aid in packing the silage tightly and provide about the proper amount of roughage for a steer on full feed. Ear corn silage has a high acid content and may attack the walls of a concrete silo.

However, the great majority of farmers do not have silos and must feed the corn as it comes from the field. The questions then arise as to whether or not soft corn is a safe feed for all classes of livestock and as to its value compared with sound corn. In discussing either of these questions, we must admit that the experimental evidence is quite limited and any discussion may have to be modified after further experimentation. It seems safe to say that soft corn, if not moldy or sour, is a relatively safe feed for cattle and hogs. It is, however, quite laxative due to its high water content. Consequently unusual care must be exercised in getting the animals upon full feed or it may cause severe scouring.

Frozen corn especially is apt to cause digestive disturbances. Due to its high water content, soft corn is quite apt to mold, sour or ferment, especially in warm weather. Molded or fermented soft corn cannot be regarded as absolutely safe but usually cattle and to a less degree, hogs can handle it without disaster. Sheep men differ as to the advisability of using soft corn, but many of them do use it successfully. Sheep are not apt to eat much moldy or soured corn if they have plenty of wholesome feed. Since horses and mules are very susceptible to moldy corn, it is not advisable to feed soft corn to them. In lieu of more definite information, it is customary to study the chemical composition of a feed as an indication of its nutritive value. Soft corn is higher in water content and consequently lower in the dry nutrients than mature corn.

Mature corn usually contains from 10 to 20 per cent of water while soft corn may contain from 25 to 65 per cent of water depending upon the stage of maturity at which it was frozen. Usually, however, soft corn contains between 25 and 50 per cent of moisture. Obviously the feeding value of soft corn is correspondingly lower than that of mature corn due to its lower content of dry substance. If the chemical composition of the dry substance of mature and soft corn are compared, it is found that there is practically no difference, which would lead one to the conclusion that pound for pound for dry substance the feeding values of soft and mature corn are the same. In other words the difference in feeding value between soft and mature corn is determined by the water content of the former.

In an experiment at the Iowa Experiment Station medium soft corn (containing 35 per cent water at the beginning of the test and decreasing to 16 per cent water at the end of the test) was compared with sound corn (containing 11 per cent water) for fattening steers. The gains were practically the same while the steers fed soft corn actually required less dry substance per pound of gain. The results obtained by practical feeders, however, do not indicate that the dry substance of soft corn has so high a feeding value, particularly when the corn is very soft. The consensus of opinion among feeders seems to be that for wintering cattle and hogs, for cows in light milk and for fattening steers and hogs in the early part of the feeding period, soft corn is nearly equal to mature corn pound for pound of dry substance. For finishing either steers or hogs, mature corn gives much better results.

In order to secure the best results with soft corn, it must be fed with more care than mature corn. We have already mentioned that a longer time is necessary to get stock on a full feed of soft corn. Since the water content is considerably higher, a larger amount of soft corn must be fed. Thus frequent feeding, three or four times per day, or soft feeding is advised. Also it should be properly supplemented with high protein feeds. Frozen corn should be thawed out in a warm place or cooked before feeding. If possible soft corn should be used up before extremely cold weather. Soft corn may be hogged down advantageously and some sheep feeders advocate sheeping it down.

Co-operative Marketing as a Hope—Not once in any one of the series of district conferences has there any expression of doubt about co-operative marketing being the way to solve the problems of selling and distribution, states President Sam Thompson of the I. A. A. The Morgan county Farm Bureau took part in the conference held in Springfield. Thirteen conferences in all were held in Illinois, when officials of the I. A. A. met with farm bureau and co-operative marketing leaders of the state to discuss present day farm problems. "At some of the meetings, the questions of political action, tariff and price fixing were introduced but with little discussion or support," continues Mr. Thompson. "Over and over there was very definite expression showing that farmers of Illinois are expecting to go forward with a program of co-operative marketing."

Mr. Thompson says the whole question was very definite recognized as an economic problem which must be solved by an economic remedy and by farmers themselves.

Several weak links were found in farm bureau and co-operative marketing work as a result of the conferences and it was pointed out that most of them would have to be corrected locally. It is expected that better business methods and sound finance plans will be stressed by co-operative associations, more in the future.

Farm Bureaus Stand on Price Fixing—In a statement received by the Morgan county Farm Bureau from the I. A. A., reasons why the American Farm Bureau federation opposes governmental price fixing on wheat are given.

This refers to a guaranteed minimum price to wheat growers.

If the supply of wheat became so large that the natural price, set by the law of supply and demand, would be lower than the guaranteed price, the government would buy in the surplus. Then, if the government had to dispose of its purchases at a loss, the deficit would have to be met by taxation.

Proponents of price fixing say that the guaranteed price would be based on cost of production plus a profit. Cost of production varies greatly in different regions. A satisfactory high-cost producer would be high enough to produce. Low-cost producers would plant additional acreage and thus increase the already too large world supply.

Acreage which ought to be devoted to other purposes would be devoted to wheat and higher taxes would be necessary. Price fixing, once started, would naturally extend to numerous commodities. There is no logical stopping place. Price fixing would subject economic relationships to politics. Production and distribution would be controlled by government commissions. With prices under political control, the farmer would find himself outvoted three to one. The American Farm Bureau Federation considers the wheat question an economic problem to be best solved by economic measures. Legislation should only be used in removing obstructions in the way of the economic program. The responsibility for profitable farming rests on farmers, not on political representatives.

Next Tuesday vote for J. E. Osborne for county commissioner—an honest, safe, competent business man.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94% AIR

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent air and six per cent common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, J. L. Johnson, 699 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.—Adv.

Her husband told the story

"My wife," he said, "like most women, is proud of her home. She wants it to look attractive, she wants everyone in the family to be well dressed and she is very particular about the quality of food for our table. Yet she is economical and careful to get value for every cent she spends."

"A few days ago I said to her, 'My dear, I suppose you will need some money soon for the usual Christmas gifts.' You can imagine my surprise when she replied, 'No, John, I am going to buy all my Christmas gifts this year with the money I will get from my filled Eagle Stamp Books. 'Now what do you think of that? All year she bought at stores that give Eagle Stamps—got the best of everything, mind you—and the Eagle Stamps that she received with her purchases of things for our home are going to pay all her Christmas expense. Saves me a lot of money, I'll tell you! Is it any wonder that I am an enthusiast about Eagle Stamps? They are the best little money savers ever invented. And the thing that pleases her most is that it's her own saving—just like money she had earned for herself. She is mighty proud of it and I'm proud of her. It's a tribute to her good management."

LATEST NEWS OF THE SPORTING WORLD

FOUR UNDEFEATED CONFERENCE TEAMS WILL CLASH TODAY

Illinois-Chicago Game is the Feature Attraction This Afternoon

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Four of the undefeated Big Ten football conference teams will be seen in action tomorrow and unless a tie score results from the efforts of the Chicago and Illinois squads at Urbana the number of undefeated teams is sure to be cut to four or less before dark.

Chicago will open the big new Illinois Stadium at Urbana and close to 60,000 football fans have purchased tickets to witness the contest. Michigan journeys to Iowa City to clash with the much improved University of Iowa Northwestern plays Minnesota at Minneapolis.

The Chicago-Illinois game and the Michigan-Iowa contest seem to hold the spotlight of attention of the big ten fans for aside from the age-old rivalry between them neither Chicago or Illinois have been defeated this year and both are picked by their partisans to carry off the supreme honors of the conference while the knowledge that Iowa is exceptionally strong causes attention to be drawn toward the Michigan invasion of Iowa City.

Illinois was a problem to all students of football until Harold Grange the Wheaton, Ill., boy developed in a star of the first magnitude and it has been mainly thru his efforts that Illinois managed to barely outpoint Iowa and to overwhelm Northwestern.

While Grange is a tremendous help to the Illinois team the remainder of the squad has developed into a great football machine. On the other hand, Stagg's team has a formidable set of backs in Zorn, H. Thomas, J. Thomas and Pyott and a couple of ends of the very highest caliber in Dickson and Lampe. The Maroon line has shown up exceedingly well and it was not until Purdue broke thru last Saturday that the Chicago goal line was crossed.

Illinois will use an open game and reports from the practice at Stagg field during the week indicates that Chicago is preparing for it. Both Dickson and Lampe were injured last Saturday but reports today are that they will be in the lineup when time is called at 2 P. M. tomorrow afternoon at Urbana thanks to the extraordinary efforts of a couple of doctors. Enthusiasm is at fever pitch at both institutions and the railroads estimated today that more than 15,000 persons will go down to Urbana from Chicago.

Out in Iowa City the two teams that came thru undefeated last year clash. Michigan has again gone thru the first part of their season without being beaten while Iowa has succumbed to Illinois by the close score of 9 to 6, but has vanquished all other foes. In the Illinois game the Zuppke machine came thru to victory in the last few minutes of play and there are those who contend that Iowa has learned much since then.

Minnesota is the favorite over Northwestern. Thistlethwaite's purple squad has not shown championship caliber this year while reports from the Minnesota team show that it has been playing a good brand of football. It tied the strong Wisconsin team last Saturday and came thru without any serious damage.

Wisconsin has an off day tomorrow but Hanover will contest their annual game with Indiana and Denison will play their yearly game with Ohio State.

Down at South Bend Purdue tackles the Great Notre Dame team. This is also an annual affair between the two universities.

PROBABLE LINE-UP FOR TODAY'S GAME

Chicago goes into the game the heavier team its men averaging 186 pounds to 184 for the Illini. The probable lineups: Illinois . . . Pos. . . Chicago

Center . . . King

MONMOUTH HOLDS ILLINOIS TO TIE

Teams Evenly Matched Battle to a Score of 7 to 7—Rogers Makes Long Gains—Both Sides Resort to Large Amount of Punting.

In yesterday's Journal the question of the game between Illinois and Monmouth was: "Can they do it again?" The answer is: "They did and they didn't." They did keep Monmouth from winning but they didn't keep them from scoring and tying up the game. It was a real hot scrap all the way through, both teams winning their points by the hardest of work and every man fighting the fight of his life. Shorty Rogers for Illinois, as usual, showed his stuff in hitting the line for some dandy gains, and Taylor and Graham for Monmouth also did some spectacular work. Illinois started with a rush and pushed it over in the first quarter, and it was then about an even fight until the third session when Monmouth managed to even up the score. Both goals were threatened, once especially when Monmouth had only about eight inches to go but were held on down by Illinois.

Yesterday was Rotary Day, the members being guests of the college for the game. Just before the starting whistle they paraded before the grand stand, headed by the Illinois College band, wearing the colors of Old Illinois, and displaying their own banner, making a very impressive sight.

Below is given a synopsis of the game:

First Quarter
Monmouth kicked the ball to Illinois 20 and it was returned to the 30 yard mark for a down. Beecher then went thru for two yards and Rogers followed suit on the next down for 15 yards, and again gained 4 yards by the same tactics. On Illinois 4th down they punted to Monmouth 25 yard mark, Monmouth punting in return to Illinois 45 yard line. Illinois again punted on 4th down to the 16 yard mark, and Monmouth punted to middle of the field from this point by a series of brilliant passes, end runs, and line plunges, Illinois worked the ball to the Monmouth goal where Beecher took it over and Illinois made goal. Illinois kicked off and the ball, was down on Monmouth's 35 yard mark. Monmouth lost on fumble. Rogers went around left end for a 12 yard gain. Illinois then lost the ball on downs, the quarter ending with the ball resting on Monmouth's 25 yard line.

Score: Monmouth 0; Illinois 7

Second Quarter
On the starting whistle Monmouth came back strong, making a 5 yard, a 43 yard and a 10 yard gain thru Illinois line. Monmouth penalized for holding. Monmouth then punted to Illinois 45 and on their 4th down they in turn punted to Monmouth 25 with the runner held on the 35. Monmouth punted to Illinois 18, and Illinois returned by punting to their own 45 yard line. Monmouth then proceeded to work the ball down to the Illinois goal where they gave the Blue and White lads a bad scare by getting the ball to within about 8 inches for the 4th down. Here the Hill boys did the stone-wall stuff and held them back from their much desired points. Illinois then punted to a safer place on their 35 yard mark holding the runner with no gain. Illinois intercepted a forward pass and returned it to the 35 yard mark. At this place Shield was removed from the game for unnecessary roughness, and Illinois received a penalty of 19 yards placing the ball on their own 19 yard line. Johnson relieved Shields; Rogers made 11 yards thru the line and when the quarter ended the ball was in Illinois territory on the 35 yard mark.

Score: Monmouth 0; Illinois 0.

Third Quarter
Illinois kicked off, Monmouth returning it to the 40 yard mark for a down. Graham for Monmouth then made a punt of 50 yards the ball going down on Illinois 10 yard mark. Illinois punted in return, Graham capturing the ball and going over on a long run for a touch down, and a goal was made. Monmouth again made a long kickoff to Illinois 5 yard mark. Rogers making a run of 25 yards, the ball going down on the Illinois on the 30 mark. Rogers again hit the line for 12 yards. On the 4th down Illinois punted and held the ball on Monmouth 22 yard mark. Monmouth penalized for unnecessary roughness. Monmouth punted to the center of the field where the ball was down. On Illinois 4th down a punt put the oval on the Monmouth 19 mark. Monmouth punted on third down to the 45 and Shorty Rogers ran it back to the 20 yard. Illinois lost the ball on downs by an incomplete forward pass on the 15 yard line. The quarter ended on the Monmouth 17 yard mark.

Score: Monmouth 7; Illinois 7.

Fourth Quarter
Monmouth punted the ball going down to the 42 yard mark. Monmouth intercepted a forward pass on the 30. Taylor went thru for 28 yards. On the 4th down Monmouth punted out of bounds. Illinois receiving the ball on the 29 mark. Illinois punted and held the runner on the Monmouth 25. Monmouth punted to Illinois 25. Illinois fumbled, but Monmouth was penalized the ball going to the 35 mark. Illinois lost on downs, the game ending with the ball in the middle of the field.

MISSOURI VALLEY CONFERENCE TEAMS IN ACTION TODAY

Missouri, Ames, Nebraska Stand in the 100 Per Cent Column

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 2.—(A P.)—With the Missouri Valley conference football title already belouped as a result of an unusual epidemic of the games, tomorrow games will make it still more doubtful.

Three valley teams, Ames, Nebraska and Drake, stand in the 100 percent column, while Kansas and the Kansas Aggies stand in the clear with two ties each to their credit. Should both Kansas and the Aggies win their games tomorrow and Ames tie with Drake, five teams would be in position to dispute the title.

The Missouri Tigers who last week played a 7 to 7 tie with Nebraska will meet the Kansas Aggies at Manhattan Kansas tomorrow in the feature game of the valley.

Kansas is likely to break in with the leaders in their game with Oklahoma at Norman. Oklahoma was defeated by Nebraska while Kansas has tied the Cornhuskers.

Ames and Drake, both with clean slates so far as losses are concerned will meet at Des Moines and if another tie is not recorded one of these will slip into the 50-50 column while the other will be more firmly entrenched with the leaders. Drake has played only one conference game this season defeating Grinnell last week. No other conference games are on the schedule for tomorrow.

FRANKLIN PLAYERS DEFEAT ASHLAND

Morgan Teams Wins Over Cass Eleven on Franklin Gridiron by Score of 28 to 0.

Franklin defeated Ashland high school yesterday afternoon by a score of 28 to 0 on the Franklin field. The feature of the game was a 70 yard run for a touchdown, made by Read when he intercepted a forward pass.

Both lines of defense were good, and in the first half Ashland held their rivals to one touchdown. However, the Ashland players seemed unable to penetrate the Franklin defense, and their men seemed baffled by the constant forward passing. Ashland completed only two touchdowns, while Franklin players completed more than half a dozen.

Hocking of Franklin made two touchdowns. Read made one and Smith one. One touchdown was made during the game.

Yost's Record Unique In Football

Famous Michigan Coach Has Don Big Things At Ann Arbor

FIELDING H. YOST

BY BILLY EVANS

Dame rumor has it that Fielding H. Yost is to retire as football coach at University of Michigan at the close of the present season. He is to continue as director of athletics at that institution.

Yost has signified that this is his last year. If he makes good his decision to retire, it will mark the passing of one of the greatest mentors in the history of the game.

"Hurry-Up," as he is known to the sport world, has been coaching football for the past 25 years.

With Alonzo Stagg of Chicago he ranks as one of the pioneers in Western Conference football.

Yost came to Michigan in 1901. At that time football at the Ann Arbor institution was in a decided rut. Yost lifted it out with a vengeance.

Yost has Great Record

During Yost's first five seasons at Michigan, he hung up a record that rival coaches can shoot at for some time. Over that period he made and won 55 of his first 56 games, tying for Yost.

In the first four years of Yost's reign at Michigan only one team crossed the Wolverine's goal line more than once in a game. Chicago turned the trick in 1904, the sensational Ekersall twice getting away for long runs that resulted in touchdowns.

Seniors at the university turned out in the annual hobo parade, in which they marched thru the streets of the university district in freakish attire led by an equally freakish band.

The features of tomorrow's program, aside from the game, will be the presentation of letters before 1896, and the alumni reunion after the game.

RENAULT WINNER IN FURIOUS BATTLE

Floyd Johnson Takes The Count in the 15th Round After Being the Aggressor in the First Rounds.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Jack Renault, Canadian aspirant for heavyweight honors, knocked out Floyd Johnson of Iowa tonight in the fifteenth and last round of a furious battle at Madison Square Garden. Johnson's seconds tossed a towel into the ring as he arose from taking a count of nine and staggered about the ring helpless after a terrific bombardment.

Johnson rushed Renault at the start and was the aggressor thruout the first round. He pummeled the Canadian about the head but took a stiff left jolt to the chin. They set a fast pace in the second round. Renault jarring Johnson with his left but got the worst of the exchanges at close quarters.

Partly off balance Renault went half way thru the ropes from a left to the chin in the third but scrambled back without a count apparently unhurt. Johnson let loose a flurry of blows, but they carried little steam and he took a hard right to the head. Renault brought blood from Johnson's nose in the fourth with a straight left, but absorbed considerable punishment about the head.

Renault staggered Johnson in the fifth with a left hook and kept a steady stream of blows flowing from the lowan's nose as they battled at close range. They mixed at a furious pace in the sixth, Johnson sending Renault to the ropes once with a rushing attack. The Canadian tried hard for a right hand knockout but was wild.

Renault had Johnson in momentary distress in the seventh with a terrific attack to the head but the lowan rallied and sent Renault partly thru the ropes in a mixup. Both slugged away at close quarters in the eighth, Renault's blows doing the most damage. Renault Johnson groggy in the ninth with a series of ripping uppercuts and

Zuppke Leads Stagg; Illinois' Great Rise

URBANA, Ill.—When the Maroon of Chicago and the Orange and Blue of Illinois clash here Saturday in the Homecoming battle in Illinois' new Stadium it will mark another step in the long-standing rivalry between these two institutions and in the more recent rivalry between Coaches Stagg and Zuppke. As the record now stands Zuppke has the edge on his rival by one game.

Since the Illinois coach took the reins his team have defeated the Maroons five times, tied them once and lost to them four times. The Illini won in 1914, 1915, 1918, 1919 and 1920, tied in 1917 and lost in 1913, 1916, 1921 and 1922.

The rivalry between the two universities is a rivalry which goes back to 1892 when they first met on the gridiron. Illinois had been playing football only two years and none too successfully. But in that year the athletic association went at the sport in earnest. It engaged E. K. Hall, now chairman of the national rules committee, but then known only as a prominent athlete at Dartmouth. They called him "Boss" Hall in those days and the "Boss" arranged a strenuous schedule, 13 games for his men.

This schedule included a western trip that probably stands as a record in middle western football. Hall took his men on a trip through Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, played six games in eight days and won four of them. After this strenuous season of his squad Hall brought it back to Illinois to meet Purdue, which Illinois had played the first two years of its football career and by which it had been soundly trounced, and to play Chicago and Northwestern.

They didn't play football in those days the way they do now. In the Purdue game, which resulted in another victory for the Marooners, incidentally, when the Illini were nearing the Purdue goal, the Purdue coach, seeing one of his ends weakening, took him out and went in himself. Whereupon Coach Hall also went in at end on his team to even things up.

The first Illinois-Chicago game was played in a baseball park in Chicago. Chicago won 19 to 4 and the deciding touchdown was made by A. A. Stagg, the Chicago coach who had just come from Yale to take up his life work on the Midway, for as was the case in the Purdue game the coach had the right to go in and play with his team if he thought it necessary. This game was played under handicap for all the spectators insisted upon following the teams up and down the field—they did not want to interfere but they wanted to see as much of the game as possible.

Another interesting fact about the beginning of football relations between the two institutions is that a return game was played between the two institutions is that that return game was played at Urbana which the Illinois team won by a score of 28 to 12. One of the guard positions on this Illinois team was played by George

The season of 1911 was a sad anti-climax to the previous year's story. Even one thing Chicago won by the topheavy score of 24 to 0. The seasons of 1912 and 1913 were little better. Then under the coaching of Robert Zuppke 1914 brought Illinois "wonder team" and her undisputed championship of the western conference. From then on the worm

The next year the Illini eleven coached by Arthur Hall, established a record which may stand for many years in Illinois history. Illinois won every game on its schedule and not once during the season was it scored upon. Three games, Chicago, Indiana and Syracuse, were won by 3 to 0 scores, thanks to the kicking of Otto Seiler. Two men on that team stand out as Illini heroes—Butzer at guard, and Twist at center.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2—Stock
prices fluctuated irregularly during the greater part of today's session but a fresh outburst of buying in the late dealings sent most of the leaders to new high levels on the movement. Sales exceeded one million shares for the third consecutive day. Speculative interest of the financial community was divided between the stock market and the cotton market the latter staging a sensational rally on publication of a bullish government crop estimate.

Constructive forces in the stock market found considerable encouragement in a series of favorable trade developments during the day. These included the declaration of four quarterly dividends of $1.25 each on Manassas-burg, payments on which had been suspended since June 1921; the resumption of dividends on Loew's, Inc.; announcement of the establishment of new high production records for all time in October by the Carnegie Steel Co. and the Chevrolet Motor Co. and a report of the Great Northern railway company showing that October carloadings were the largest of any month in its history.

Bearing traders continued to put out new short lines during the day but met with little success in their campaign for lower prices (except in some of the oil, coal and copper company shares. Texas Company dropped to 34, another new low for the year, despite the denial of a director's that the question of the reducing of the dividend has been discussed.

United States government
bonds fell off slightly on less active trading. Total sales, (par value) $11,523,000.

SOWN WHEAT AT LATE DATE IN FALL

A well known resident of this city said that about fifteen or sixteen years ago a prominent farmer of Morgan county sowed his wheat the 24th day of November. It was so cold the man had to wait for the ground to thaw before he could work it in the afternoon. Naturally the wise ones predicted failure, but his crop yielded 33 bushels to the acre. There was considerable snow that winter, a fact which helped the crop along.

FAMOUS ELM WILL BE CUT INTO SOUVENIRS

News items in recent days have thru stories and pictures told of the collapse of the Washington Elm, a long famous landmark at Cambridge, Mass. The old elm, which has been viewed by countless thousands, was famous because it majestically marked the place where George Washington took command of the Continental army.

The tree toppled over from sheer age altho it had been given all possible care thru many years.

Mrs. C. A. Barnes, who is resident in Cambridge this year, happened to be passing just after the elm fell in its felled in plot beside the Cambridge Common.

She had the chance to secure some twigs from the elm and one of these has reached a Jacksonville friend.

After some consideration the Cambridge authorities decided to cut the tree into souvenirs which will be distributed thru all the states of the union.

Mrs. Barnes, Miss Dorothy Farrell, Felix Farrell, Jr., and James Barnes are this year having an apartment at 143 Mt. Auburn street. They are located near a park adjacent to the Charles river and from their windows can watch the Harvard crew at practice, while the big athletic stadium is less than a mile distant.
